Council concerned with vandalism

Concern over ongoing incidents of vandalism at Elk Point Recreation Park was among the items discussed last Tuesday night when Elk Point Town Council met with Sgt. John Humphrey of the Elk Point RCMP.

Each year of operation has seen tables or benches burned, with this year's attempt to set the gazebo itself on fire the most serious occurrence. Other misbehavior has included 4-wheel-drive trucks chasing snowmobiles across the golf course, as well as other activity of a destructive nature.

Mayor Ed Buck said that if vandalism cannot be stopped, it may be necessary to close the park. "We can't afford to keep repairing the damage. People say it's just kids having fun, but how far does fun go?" Councillor Mae Hendrickson noted that residents may not realize that the cost of fixing and replacing park property is added onto their tax bills.

Public Works Superintendent Ron Fraess said there has been some vandalism each year he has been with the Town, with only one perpetrator caught in that time. It is difficult to track down the offenders, because "people who do know who they are won't speak up."

Sgt. Humphrey suggested that when culprits are caught, the court could be asked to order restitution for the damage caused, either in cash or community service. He also suggested replacing the picnic tables with non-combustible concrete models. Fraess has recently made the stove in the shelter smaller and installed an outdoor firepit at the gazebo site.

Other policing matters which came under discussion were downtown U-turns and early morning speeding on Highway 41. The latter has been taken in hand by the RCMP, who wrote in excess of a dozen tickets during their recent series of patrols, which is ongoing at random intervals.

Back to discussion of the Recreation Park, Council agreed to discuss the upgrading of one ball diamond to a Community Advisory Committee formed

A Community Advisory Committee which will assist Elk Point RCMP by bringing input from the community for their use in formulating policing priorities officially came into being last week, when just over a dozen representatives from various groups and agencies met at the Seniors Recreation Centre.

Cst. Pat Wasylynuk reviewed the guidelines for a Community Advisory Committee, and said that this was a formal way of facilitating communication between a cross section of the community and the police. Sgt. John Humphrey added that the CAC is "not a one-way street," because the commun-

Chamber kicks off new season

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce got back to business after the two month summer hiatus, with reports of a successful and busy summer.

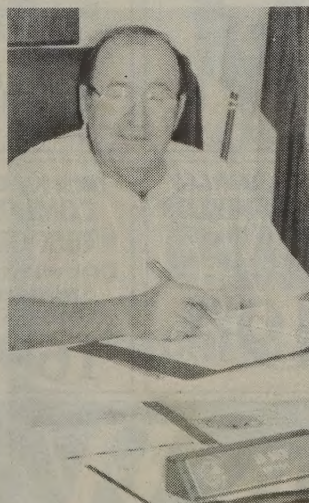

The Chamber's Canada Day Pancake Breakfast went well, with donations adding up to slightly more than the cost of supplies. Thank you letters will be sent to various donors of time, equipment and supplies.

The Tourist Booth enjoyed a 10 percent increase in tourists over last year's figures, a goal which had been hoped for when renovations took place. A more detailed report on tourist figures will be forthcoming.

The Chamber now plans to participate in the Community

Information Night, September 20, and will send a representative to the International Year of the Family meeting, September 22, at which an alternative family fun event for New Year's Eve will be discussed. The Chamber will also take part in the F. G. Miller High School Awards Night. No volunteers were forthcoming, however, for a representative to attend the Interagency Committee meetings once a month.

Elk Point's courthouse is slated to close at the end of September, and letters have been sent by the Town of Elk Point and the Chamber protesting the closure, which will have a detrimental effect on business in the community.

MAYOR ED BUCK - proclaimed Sunday, September 18 as Terry Fox Day in Elk Point.

Terry Fox day

On behalf of the citizens and Town Council of the Town of Elk Point, I hereby proclaim Sunday, September 18, 1994 as

"TERRY FOX DAY"

People from Elk Point and across the country will soon put on their sneakers and run, jog, wheel, walk or bike in the Terry Fox Run for the Marathon of Hope. I hope that everyone participates whether in the run, through pledges and donations or as volunteers.

The overwhelming commitment and participation from the people of Elk Point serves as an annual symbol of the memory of Terry Fox and his message that "cancer can be beaten."

I applaud your valiant efforts to improve the lives of others and those yet to come. I wish you every success in your fundraising efforts and hope that the donations will help find the much needed cure.

Mayor Ed Buck

Chamber gets back to business

MLA Paul Langevin has also sent a letter to the Minister outlining the problem. If the closure does go ahead as planned, the Chamber has asked the Town to look into obtaining the building, which could be used to house some of the groups left homeless when the Community Services Centre was vacated.

A need for explanatory plaques at the mural has been voiced during the summer. The murals are a major tourist attraction, but viewers need an explanation of the people and events depicted, and don't always have access to the brochures produced by the Historical Society. It was also felt that these brochures do not give enough information. The matter will be taken to the Elk Point Historical Society for their input.

The Chamber has decided to hold all their meetings for the 1994-95 season at the Empress Banquet Room, with the next meeting scheduled for September 21.

Information night is coming Sept 20!

FCSS is hosting Information Night on Tuesday, September 20 between 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. at the Elks Hall. Information Night is an opportunity for residents to become aware of what is available to them right in their own community in terms of services, clubs, recreation, education and so forth. The evening can be especially valuable to newcomers in the community because so many of the non-profit groups and agencies are showcased together under one roof at one time.

But you don't have to be new to the community to appreciate what is available. Every year brings new exhibits and special attractions. This year will feature a dynamic display by the Elk Point Flying Club, special features from Further Education, participation from Radio LW, facepainting and more!

Some groups use the event as an opportunity to take registrations for the coming season. Many exhibitors also have draws for great prizes. Be sure to come out with your family and friends to the 10th Annual Information Night. See you there! For more information call FCSS at 724-3800.

How's Your M.H.Q.?

According to the National Association for Mental Health, you have a high mental health quotient if you are blessed with the following characteristics:

1. A tolerant, easy-going attitude toward yourself and others;
2. A realistic estimation of your own abilities and a determination to make the most of them;
3. Self-respect - a personal pride in accomplishment, independent of the judgement of others;
4. The ability to take disappointment in stride;
5. The ability to love and to consider the interests and rights of others;

6. Feeling part of a group, with a clear sense of responsibility to others;

7. An ability to solve problems as they arise - not putting them off until tomorrow;

8. An ability to plan ahead, setting realistic goals;

9. Putting your best into whatever you do, and getting satisfaction from it.

Community Connections
"First Night"

A meeting is planned to discuss the possibility of hosting a "First Night" event in Elk Point on New Year's Eve 1994. A "First Night" event is an alternative to the "adult only" dinner / dance functions that normally occur. The intent is to provide a non-alcoholic New Year's Eve event that involves all family members in healthy and fun activities. Activities could include family skating, curling, broomball, fireworks, children's face painting, clowns, magicians, sleigh rides, storytelling and more! This could be a full day event or limited to the December 31 evening only. This concept has proven to be very successful in other communities. If you are interested in this concept, then be at the Seniors' Recreation Centre on Thursday, September 22 at 7:00 p.m. Call 724-3800 for more information.

Elk Point Jack and Jill Playschool Association Annual General Meeting

The Annual General Meeting of the Elk Point Jack and Jill Playschool Association will be held on Monday, September 19, 1994 at 7:00 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Playschool Room in the Elk Point Elementary School. This meeting is open to all parents of the Playschool membership. Please volunteer your time; PARENTS are what makes Playschool an existing program!

Most Want FCSS Conditionally

According to the FCSSAA (Family and Community Support Services Association of Alberta), as of August 3, 1994, 169 municipalities representing 2,146,643 Albertans opted for conditional funding for their FCSS dollars. 104 other municipalities totalling 305,347 people chose to go unconditional with their funding. Conditional funding requires the dollars be used only for services as defined by the FCSS Act. Unconditional funding would allow the money to be used for any purpose. Elk Point is one of the communities that chose conditional funding.

Our Past

By Steve Andrishak

You may wonder how a general store, which has been open for eight years but has never made a sale, can remain open.

Such a store exists in Elk Point. It is the antique general store which makes up part of the Pioneer Museum display. Housed in a special building, it contains thousands of items from the past - many as old as 100 years or more. There is an 1861 cast iron stove, a 1907 wooden washing machine, a cast-decorated cash register, a large 1920 hand-turned coffee grinder, an old wooden ice box, a 1920 battery radio, a 1910 Edison cylinder phonograph, an old fashioned scale, a 1929 slot machine, many different butter churns, lamps, early fruit jars, as well as countless other items of the past.

On shelving, there are hundreds of old tins: tobacco, coffee, tea, jam and peanut butter, etc. as well as many early medicine bottles, porcelain jugs, old catalogues, early 1900's calendars, early tools and ladies' fashion needs.

Outside, located nearby are two 1918 gasoline pumps used in the days when you could buy gasoline at 25 cents a gallon.

This store was built in the memory of William Andrishak, who was a pioneer store keeper during the middle 1920s in Elk Point.

If you want to step back in time, visit this interesting general store - no doubt you will be fascinated.

Editor's Note:

Steve Andrishak's store is somewhat of a time machine. For us of middle age, stepping in the door is stepping back into the days of our childhood, when general stores were a common sight in small town Alberta. The cans of Old Chum tobacco and Players cigarettes, the wall-hung container of Chanticleer cigarette papers, the paper-wrapped cakes of P and G, Fels Naptha or Sunlight laundry soap, the green boxes of Creamettes macaroni, all were on the shelves of those stores of long ago. We remember when storekeepers weighted out a pound of sausages and a half pound of bologna on scales just like that, and the rich, tantalizing smell of fresh-ground coffee.

Elk Point General Store

MINDING THE STORE - Steve Andrishak jokes that he "hasn't made a sale in eight years" in the store which makes up part of his Pioneer Museum, a popular stop for tourists in the Elk Point area.

Square shaker-topped boxes of Bon Ami scouring powder bring recollections of cleaning windows with that awful stuff that got powder all over everything in sight, and the box of Rickett's Bluing reminds us of washday, when all the white clothes got a final rinse in a galvanized tub of blue-tinted water. The tins of Empress and Climax jams, the brown tin of Magic Baking Powder, the big red tin of Blue Ribbon Tea put us right back in Mother's pantry.

You can't go back home, they say, and in most cases, this is so. Mother's pantry and her gas washing machine are long gone, and the general stores have been replaced with efficient, impersonal supermarkets. But you can get that warm, home-town feeling, just by stepping in the door of Andrishak's General Store... and even better, this is one shopping trip you can afford.

GRADE FOURS ON TOUR - Elk Point Elementary School Grade Four students ended the 1993-94 school year with a trip to Drmheller. The students would like to thank Mr. Henderson of Quality Time Tours who kindly gave of his time to make the trip such a memorable occasion.

Open letter to Shamrock Valley Enterprises Ltd.

Dear Sirs:

On behalf of my wife, daughter and grandson, we sincerely thank the following men, employees of your company for coming to our assistance at an accident we were involved in on Saturday morning, August 27, 1994: Jody Allen, Art Romanchuk, Jason

Peters, Robert and Roger Smith.

Their assistance and traffic control prevented what could have been a more serious accident due to the heavy fog.

Once again our sincere thanks to you all.

Jim MacLellan

Back-to-school, back to work, back to committee meetings, back to.....! It's September - the "back to" month of the year! When it comes to education, we have divergent views and philosophies. Not everyone would agree with Mark Twain, who said, "I received public schooling as a child, but I never let it interfere with my education." William Gairdner writes:

"The young are the future of any nation, and therefore what they learn at home, in our schools, and at work largely dictates the future. That is why teaching is surely the most noble calling, for those who teach, whether paid or unpaid, whether parent, friend, coach, boss, pastor or professional, can be said to have a near-sacred moral duty to those taught. Any teacher is a conduit to the truths of life - or to the falsehoods..." (The War Against the Family, Pages 197-198)

Recently, in the September issue of Focus on the Family magazine, Dr. Dobson answered a very interesting question with answers that I feel are worth repeating. When asked "why should we put our children through the agony of learning," he responded this way (I am summarizing his remarks):

1. Teaching self-discipline is an important component of the academic experience. Good students learn to sit for long hours, follow directions, complete assignments and use their mental faculties. Homework is also an important tool as an instrument of discipline.

2. Learning is important because we are changed by what we learn, even if the facts are later forgotten. Not college grad will remember everything but he / she is a different person because of the experience.

3. Even if the learned material cannot be recalled, the individual knows the facts exist and where to find them.

4. We don't forget 100 percent of what we learn. The human brain is capable of storing two billion bits of data in a lifetime; education is a process of filling that memory bank...

John Milton Gregory said, "The true function of the teacher is to create the most favorable conditions for self-learning... one might say that he teaches best who teaches least." Perhaps in context, Mark Twain wasn't so bizarre after all! I think that pursuit of education is a far more important process than the accomplishment of an educational program. What do you think?

F.G. Miller the best in the west!

Denise Smerkea
Yearbook Advisor

That's right - the Best in the West! Out of all the Herff Jones schools in western Canada, the 1993 / 94 Wapiti Yearbook staff has been awarded Grand Prize in the Herff Jones National Merchandising Contest. Two winners were selected from both eastern and western Canada. The eastern winner was a school from Heartlake, Ontario (a suburb of Toronto). The contest was entered in November of 1993 and winners were chosen based on sales, advertising technique, special activities, yearbook promotion and student /staff reaction. The grand prize consists of a Pentax camera, film for a year, an Aldus Page-maker program for our computer and $500 cash compliments of Herff Jones Canada (our publishing company).

To receive the award, the yearbook advisor (Denise Smerkea) submitted a 3 page writeup on the campaign, photographs of the finished product, and the Wapiti staff at work. The year started off with yearbook sales of 168 (thanks, parents, for caring enough to give your children their book of high school memories) and additional sales of 23 when the book arrived. A display was made for "Meet the Teacher Night" which featured former yearbooks, and prior to the arrival of the books the Wapiti staff created original posters using Herff Jones advertising materials. Two displays (one in the display case by the gym and one in the library) brought with them anticipation for the new books and when they arrived, the original posters and library bulletin board aided in the excitement of actually passing the books out.

A special thanks to the Wapiti staff for their dedication and commitment to creating and compiling the history of the F. G. Miller High School into the 80 page book of memories we call the "Wapiti" (elk in Cree). Krista Seward (editor), Rebekah Matthews (co-editor), and Christa Hammond saw the book from start to finish and their commitment to the Wapiti is to be highly commended. Thanks to Margaret McGregor, Hollie Blize, Judy Kim, Nadia Wentworth, and Andrew McGregor for the time they spent working on layout and collecting ads, and to Jaylene Purdy and Tom Rae for their help on the campaign. Thanks to all of the above and Rachel Peterson for all the noon hours they spent working to raise money in the Wapiti Concession Booth (thanks to all you students who supported us for the past 3 years as well). It's great to see young people working toward a common goal and seeing that such diverse personalities can cooperate to create a truly tremendous publication.

The 1993 / 94 Wapiti staff would also like to take this opportunity to extend our thanks to those organizations, businesses and people who became part of our history by placing an ad or sponsoring a page in our 32nd volume. Those Wapiti advertisers are: Lakeland Meat Processors, Vogel's UFA, Denny's Auto Body, BMW Monarch, Archie's Auto Service, Ultimate Auto Glass and Upholstery, Higgins Travel, Jorvik, Lakeland Tire, Norcen, Woody's Trophy and Gifts, Empress Restaurant, Elk Point Insurance and Realty, Capitol Drugs, Stedmans, Jeannine's,

Dr. Adams, Northern Lights Library System, Elk Point Review, Dave's Pizza, Windsor Salt, E-Can, Richard Hammond, Shamrock Valley Enterprises, Golden Loaf Bakery, Phil's Hardware, Elk Point and District Lioness, Amoco, Elk Point Gas Co., Vincent Building Supplies,

Deborah Grey, MP, and ODS Picture Framing. These special people enabled us to raise $1060, a figure which was included in the contest. This year we hope to see all our advertisers return and hope that others in the community will show their support in the 33rd edition of the Wapiti.

A lot of household paints are toxic and are potential hazardous waste. Many contain volatile organic compounds which evaporate contributing to air pollution. Season finale salutes trappers and traders

The third season at Fort George - Buckingham House Interpretive Centre wound down this weekend with a salute to the trappers and traders of two hundred years ago, featuring music, crafts and skills of yesteryear.

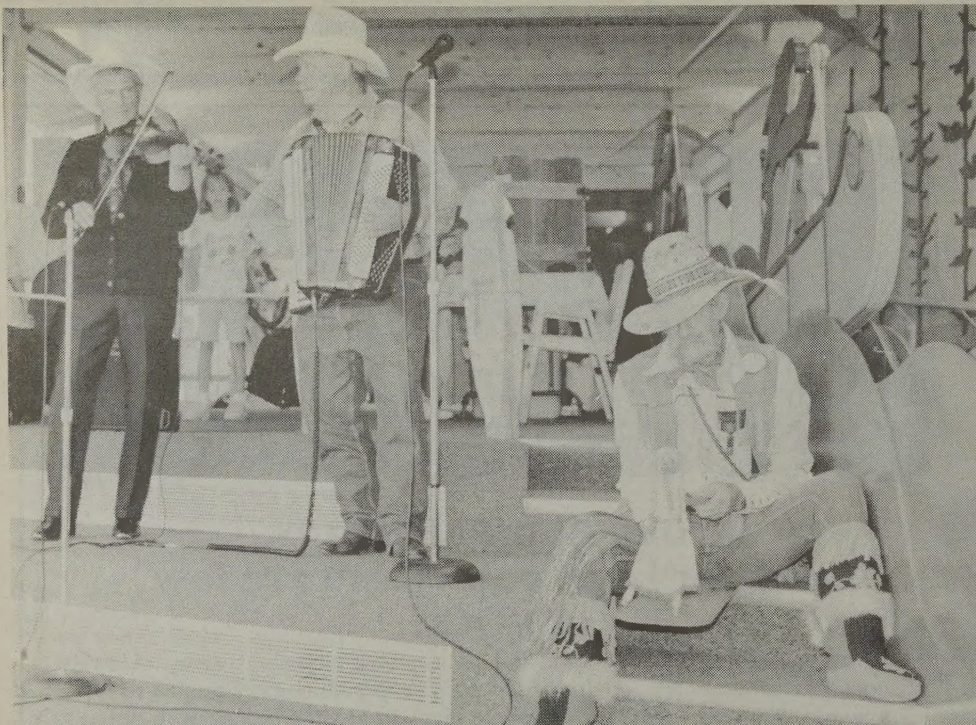

Sunday noon featured a ceremonial flagraising at the fort sites, complete with kilted bagpiper. The afternoon continued with music and dancing in the Interpretive Centre, a demonstration of sash weaving by a guest from Fort Victoria, and a display of furs and traps by the Alberta Trappers' Association.

The Edmonton House Black Powder Club set up a weekend camp in a trio of teepees at the Buckingham House site, and provided demonstrations of their marksmanship skills and an insight into the lifestyle of fur trade days.

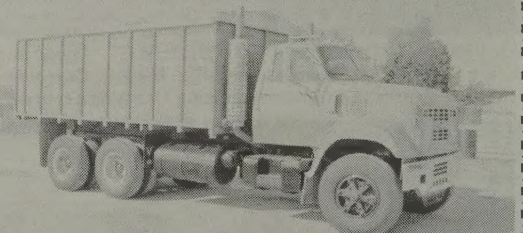

Also on display in the Interpretive Centre were Trapline Crafts, created by Dianna Wabie of Lac La Biche, showcases filled with surveying instruments used in mapping western Canada, and a salute to the McGillivray family, whose members were instrumental to the fur trade.

A GOOD TIME WAS HAD BY ALL - at Fort George - Buckingham House Interpretive Centre this weekend. Above, Alberta Trappers' Association Vice President Ted Ganske tells Forts staffer Camille Duesener about the furs harvested by modern day trappers. At right, Fort Victoria staff member Kim Palmer demonstrates the weaving of a voyageur sash. Below, Roy Scott sets a miniature dancer to jigging, while Peter and Nick Yacyshyn and Peter Erasmus (out of camera range) provide the music. At left, members of the Edmonton House Black Powder Brigade demonstrate their heritage firearms.

Terry Fox run Sunday

Elk Point's Terry Fox Run is coming up this Sunday, with registration at the Recreation Park gazebo at 1 p.m., and the run to commence at 1:30 p.m.

Pledge forms are available at Elk Point Town Office, Dave's Pizza, the Empress Restaurant, Hillside Service and F. G. Miller High School.

They ignore the bell

Fifteen Elk Point area Retired Teachers and spouses met in the Empress Lounge Banquet Room at 8:30 a.m. on September 6 to celebrate the fact that they did not have to answer the call of the bell at school.

A toast was proposed to those who still answer the call. We wish them well this year, as we enjoy our retirement.

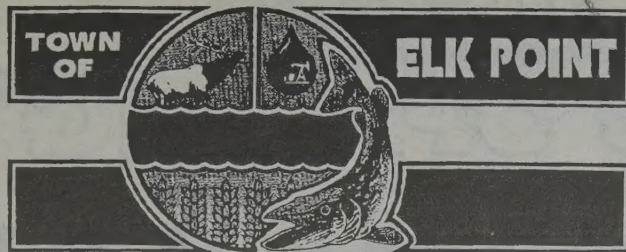

This year's newcomers, Albert Boratyne and his wife Jeannine, and Kazmir Lazicki were welcomed by the old-timers. It was noted by one of the old timers that at 40 years, 80 had seemed obsolete, but now at 75, 80 doesn't look so bad.

There was a good deal of reminiscing of days gone by, trips taken and trips to be taken, and an enjoyable time was spent together. We missed those who couldn't join us this year.

next door and a bright, spacious classroom. Our year will be fun-filled with crafts, games, stories, activities, field trips, special events and more. Playschool offers to children and their families an environment where social skills are enhanced. New friends and acquaintances are easily made. Our philosophy for the program is 'learning through play'. Children at this age learn best through their environment and experiences they encounter. They will learn through exploring the world around them. Our program will coincide with monthly themes. September starts off the year with the theme 'Me and My Family'. In October we will discuss and celebrate Thanksgiving and Halloween. Halloween is always so exciting and one can't miss the costume party. It'll be "ghoulish" fun. For more information contact F.C.S.S. This program will be a benefit for everyone. It's going to be an exciting year full of fun.

New flag, banner design approved

A design for a new Elk Point logo, flag and banner was approved by Town Council at last Tuesday's meeting.

The design, which will first appear on banners to be used in the official opening of the upcoming Alberta Urban Municipalities Association (AUMA) convention, includes the familiar northern pike, curled around a circle which has an elk and an oil drop containing a pumpjack in its dark green upper portion, and a field of golden wheat in its lower portion, with a river of blue between. The circle is mounted on a background of two blue bars divided by a white center bar, with "Town of Elk Point" in white on the top bar. When the design is later turned into a flag, the wording will be removed as per regulations for flags.

The design, created by local artists at Graphica, can also be used in the future for pins, t-shirts and letterheads.

Council concerned

Installation of drainage baseball diamond with Elk Point Minor Ball. Shale alone for the upgrading could cost around $3000, it was reported. Maintenance of hiking trails was also discussed. Fraess has been keeping the trails clear, but fears that the work may escalate due to numerous spruce falling victim to drought and insects. Bridge repairs are also needed, but may not be done this year. Mayor Buck wondered how much use the trails get, in proportion to the work necessary to keep them in order.

Patching of pavement is necessary in three areas of town, and this will be done while paving of the four avenues is in progress, with funding from pavement capital reserves. What to do with 51 Avenue west of 51 Street, a narrow thoroughfare full of tree roots, was not decided upon, with various schools of thought advocating cold mix, while others thought the Town should "bite the bullet and do it right."

Installation of drainage north of 54 Avenue on Highway 41 was originally included in the street upgrading contract, but had been taken out to save money. It has now been decided to go ahead nonetheless, as it is imperative to do this work to solve drainage problems. Another longstanding drainage problem at 50 Avenue and 51 Street was also discussed at length, before a decision was made to do the necessary work at a cost of around $11,900.

Invitational tenders will go out to local contractors to supply and install black dirt from curb to property line on the four avenues which have been upgraded.

Installation of surfacing on the arena parking lot was discussed. Pan Canadian Petroleum has volunteered to provide the material if the Town prepares the area. Mayor Buck says this cannot be done until the Town has assurance regarding future environmental concerns.

What's News at the Library

September is shaping up to be great!

Michele Duczek

Librarian

At the risk of jinxing the beautiful weather we had last week, this September is shaping up to be a great month. The leaves are beginning to turn and the days are sunny. (Of course it will now rain for the next three weeks!)

News from the Friends of the Library: it is time once again to pay your annual membership loonie. A representative from the Friends will be at the library's display at Information Night on September 20, 1994.

Speaking of Information Night, the library will be giving away prizes at its display. Anyone with a library card can enter. If you don't have a card yet, stop by the library or visit the display on the 20th.

A few new items have made their way into the library collection. Tom Clancy's latest, Debt of Honor, has arrived. I'd like to tell you more about it but it doesn't stay in the library long enough for me to get a look at it. Interested Clancy fans can put their name on the waiting list by contacting me at the library.

Popular writer Anne McCaffrey has returned to familiar territory with The Dolphins of Pern. When humans colonized Pern, they brought along their friends the dolphins. Now a young dragonrider has resumed contact with the legendary "Shipfish."

Right Honourable Men: The Descent of Canadian Politics from Macdonald to Mulroney by historian Michael Bliss is a history of our country told through the personalities of our ten most important prime ministers. Most of my favorites are included: Diefenbaker, King, Trudeau, Laurier, Pearson and Macdonald.

LIBRARY CALENDAR:

Friday mornings: Storytime is every week at 10:30 a.m. Stories, songs, crafts and more.

Thank You

We would like to thank all those who have welcomed us to Elk Point with so much enthusiasm. In particular, a special thanks to all who worked so hard to prepare our home at the manse, to those who prepared and participated in the pot luck supper at the United Church on 29th August, and to the families who so graciously hosted us while we awaited the arrival of our furniture. Our introduction to Elk Point will always be one of the highlights of our lives.

Jill and Norm Hartley

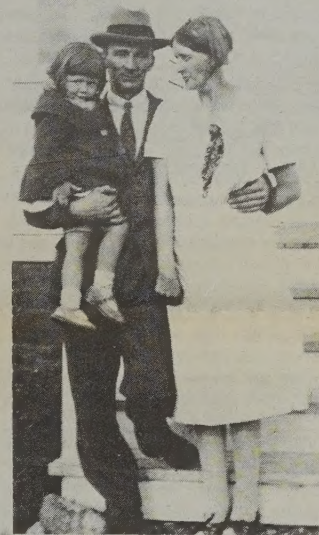

Long-ago resident to visit Elk Point

A woman who spent several of her childhood years in Elk Point will be returning to the community for a visit next week.

Marion Rose, the daughter of Reverend and Mrs. Reginal Smith, now lives in England, and is coming Elk Point next week with her husband Roy as part of a vacation in Canada. Rev. Smith was the first resident minister of Elk Point United Church, in the late 1920s, and he and his wife were also instrumental in the organization of Girl Guides and Boy Scouts in the community. They left Elk Point in 1931 to take up missionary work in British Guyana, where Mr. Smith died of typhoid.

A tea where you may meet and greet the Roses will be held Tuesday, September 20 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Senior Citizens Centre. Everyone is welcome.

Rev. and Mrs. Reginal Smith and daughter, about 1930.

CAC is formed

ity becomes aware of the RCMP's side of matters, and thus "strengthens the idea that there is a partnership."

All present were in accord that a CAC should be formed in Elk Point and area. Town Councillor Mae Hendrickson found the idea "workable. It should be an asset to the community." Pastor Jim MacLellan said the idea paralleled a recent television program on direct democracy and how it brought a community into participating in decisions. FCSS Director Terri Ehlert added that, being community initiated, the CAC would be "a real partnership."

Cst. Wasylynuk told the gathering that a CAC helps maximize the resources available to the RCMP by utilizing them where they will count the most. He told a success story of Fishing Lake's CAC, now in its third year and having an "amazing" impact in that community.

Following the passage of a motion to establish a Community Advisory Committee which will act in an advisory committee to, and communicate with, the local RCMP, a number of volunteers came forward to be part of the committee. Mae Hendrickson, with alternate Dan Povaschuk, will represent the Town of Elk Point. Don Torok has indicated a willingness to represent the County of St. Paul. Margaret Modin will represent the area's senior population, and will serve as secretary for the group. Mel Ryks, who was later named chairman of the committee, will represent the Chamber of Commerce, with Dave Yake representing the service clubs. Pastor Jim MacLellan will represent the church community, while Peggy Adomaitis will represent human services. Laverne Faithful will be the representative from Frog Lake. Representatives will also be sought from the youth sector and from industry. All representatives will report back to their respective groups. Sgt. Humphrey and Cst. Wasylynuk will be the RCMP liaison.

Development of terms of reference and establishment of objectives was deferred to the Committee's first meeting, slated for October 5.

In closing, Terri Ehlert, who had chaired the meeting on behalf of the Interagency Committee, said the CAC is "an exciting, interesting project to be involved with," and offered the help of the Interagency Committee should the need arise.

SOME PUMPKIN! - Jeanne May (left) is a first-time Giant Pumpkin grower, and has quite a promising specimen in her plastic-enclosed patch. She has kept a record of the vegetable's progress on a tape which encircles its ever-increasing girth. Veteran Giant Pumpkin growers Bill and Barb Milholland are having very little luck with their pumpkins this year, but did have one ambitious vine which climbed up and over their rain barrels, and developed a pumpkin perched on the edge of two of the containers. Is this a new self-watering variety, perhaps? For more about pumpkins, see the St. Paul Journal's Home and Garden Supplement this week.

All Long Distance calls
within Alberta require you to dial
the 403 area code.

North America is running out of numbers.

With the growing demand for modern telecommunications equipment such as fax machines, modems and cellular phones, over 13,500 new telephone numbers are requested every day.

To meet this demand, the North American Numbering Plan is being modified to add more area codes. As a result, we will have to change the way we dial. Now, whenever you call long distance, even within Alberta, you must dial the area code.

For example, in Alberta dial 1 (or 0) + 403 + seven digit number. The way you dial local calls does not change.

This message is brought to you by AGT working with telecommunications companies across North America. For more information, call 1-800-363-2633.

Remember:
Dial the 403
area code on all Long Distance calls made within Alberta.
